

DSwiss AG was founded in 2008 in Zurich and is a worldwide leading provider of highly secure digital services. We offer digital safes, mailboxes for bank document delivery and secure exchange platforms for financial advisors and customers: secure, reliable and fully GDPR compliant. DSwiss meets the highest security standards for cloud solutions and boasts an impressive client portfolio of leading European banks, insurance companies and security service providers. In addition, DSwiss provides the award-winning online password and file manager SecureSafe with more than 1 Million users worldwide.

Interested in joining a strong and highly innovative team? Be given a technical role with the power to make a difference? Or drive our solutions and software to be world-class in their category? Are you an enthusiastic and good team player with initiative?

If your answers are 'Yes', we are looking forward to receiving your complete application documents.

We are hiring immediately or upon availability a

Software Engineering Manager (80-100%) in Zurich

Your responsibilities and goals

- Set and communicate team priorities that support DSwiss' goals and values.
- Align strategy, processes, and decision-making across teams.
- Manage stakeholders and support the delivery of software product releases.
- Coach the software engineers and testers to higher levels of performance and efficiency.
- Promote culture that grows individuals in a motivated and goal focused team by facilitating continuous learning and creating mutual trust.

Your experience and knowledge

- Bachelor's degree in computer science, software engineering or a related field.
- Minimum of 3 years working experience as a Software Engineering Manager and references.
- Proven track record of transforming ideas into value that support the company's mission.
- Experience in strategic product development and delivery frameworks.
- Experience in a technical leadership role and overseeing strategic product development.
- Experience in a people management, supervision and/or team leadership role.
- Experience with software development in modern programming languages.
- You speak and write English fluently. Good German and/or Italian working proficiency is welcome.

What we offer

- DSwiss is a socially competent and innovative team with open-door mentality
- Personal responsibility, independence and the possibility to create new solutions
- Develop, learn and contribute within a highly talented and experienced team
- Attractive terms and conditions, including six weeks of vacation

Curious?

We are looking forward to receiving your complete application documents at jobs@dswiss.com with the subject «Software Engineering Manager». We do not accept dossiers from recruitment agencies.