

SecureExchange

for customer advisors
and customers

Secure exchange of customer documents

SecureExchange is a highly secure exchange platform for customer advisors. All relevant documents necessary to process bank or insurance transactions can be processed in an uncomplicated manner. USB sticks, paper files or insecure emails are now a thing of the past. This not only increases efficiency and the number of sales transactions, but also reduces your carbon footprint at the same time.

Increase efficiency

With SecureExchange, you can increase efficiency and reduce administrative effort by easily, quickly, and securely exchanging confidential documents or large files. This gives you more time to focus on taking care of your customers.

Maximum security thanks to multiple encryption

Your data is safe with DSwiss. This is ensured by internationally recognized encryption methods, triple data backup, and strong user authentication. We have implemented various protection mechanisms directly into the architecture of our application, which ensures that all personal data remains protected at all times. In addition, our zero knowledge architecture has been audited by security teams from various international banks.
